Nursing open day in Leicester

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust is holding a recruitment open day for registered nurses.

It will take place at The Evington Centre, Gwendolen Road, Leicester, LE5 4QG, on Friday, July 6, 2018, between 1pm and 5pm.

The vacancies promoted in the open day will be at the Evington Centre's four wards. Two of these are for physical health (medical stepdown) patients and two for dementia patients.

Inpatient matron Sarah Clements said: "We are looking for nurses who share our passion and commitment for providing high quality care through sound clinical decision making in our busy in-patient wards.

"The open day provides an opportunity to meet the team, discuss our plans, and have a look at our wards.

"It happens in the week of the NHS's 70th birthday. There is no better time to join or rejoin the NHS, with a new pay award pending, ambitious plans for the future, and we have a great system to continue our staff's training and development.”

The team will offer full-time, part-time and bank opportunities.

Anyone unable to attend the event, or who is interested in working in any of our other community wards, can contact sophie.daveney@leicspart.nhs.uk (medical wards) or Sarah.smith@leicspart.nhs.uk (MHSOP/dementia wards).
