

MEDIA RELEASE

21 June 2016
CHS_018_16

2 pages

Recruiting nurses at our smallest hospital

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust is looking for nurses to join one of its smallest teams.

Feilding Palmer Hospital in Lutterworth is a ten-bedded hospital that provides sub-acute care, rehabilitation, and palliative and end of life care.

We are looking for two Band 5 (qualified) nurses to join the multi-disciplinary team of nurses, physiotherapists, and occupational therapists.

Hospital Matron Linda Bull said: "Feilding Palmer has the smallest ward of any of our community hospitals. Not surprisingly, we have a very close and friendly team, who work hard to support each other.

"We are looking for Band 5 staff nurses who have experience in medical nursing who will take individual responsibility for their work and for their patients to ensure they have a positive experience, and who can demonstrate care and compassion with frail older patients.

"The work is rewarding, and we have a great benefits package including a good pension and salary sacrifice schemes which can save you money on things like gym membership, bikes and mobile phones.

"If you are a qualified nurse and are committed to delivering high quality care, we would love to hear from you."

To arrange an informal visit to the ward, ring Mel on 01509 564 208. To apply for a job, follow this link .

CAPTION: Members of our multi-disciplinary team at Feilding Palmer Hospital, Lutterworth.

ENDS

Note to editors

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust (LPT) provides a range of health and wellbeing services mainly for people living Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland. The Trust serves a population of one million, has a budget in excess of £267 million and employs approximately 5,400 staff. For more information visit www.leicspart.nhs.uk.

For further information contact: Brendan McGrath, Communications Manager, Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust, Tel: 0116 295 0801, E: brendan.mcgrath@leicspart.nhs.uk