Hundreds expected at Trust jobs fair

Find your next career with Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust as we celebrate the 70th birthday of the NHS.

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust is hosting its fifth careers fair on Tuesday 24 April 2018, marking the 70th birthday of the NHS. The event, to be held at Leicester Tigers' stadium, will showcase a wide range of jobs and careers, clinical and administrative, across our mental health, learning disability and community health services for all age ranges. Staff from across the Trust will be on hand to discuss our vacancies in detail.

Dr Peter Miller, chief executive of Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust, said: "The NHS is 70 years old this year, providing some of the best healthcare in the world at the cutting edge of knowledge, but always with care and compassion. Come and help us shape the services of the future. The event is a chance for us to build our talent pool of the future so come along, register and have a chat with the team."

Over a thousand people attended LPT's last event in October 2017, and dozens gained jobs as a direct result.

The Trust employs over 5,500 staff based at over 100 different sites and settings across Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland.

Teams being represented at the recruitment fair include public health nurses (health visiting and school nursing), mental health and learning disability services across all ages - both in inpatient and community settings - and representatives of our community health services, including our community hospitals.

Experts will also be on hand to talk to people who have previously worked in clinical professions and are looking to return-to-practice. The Centralised Staffing Solutions team (often referred to as the bank) will be present to advise on flexible work to support our permanent workforce to deliver services.

Benefits of working for LPT include the NHS or NEST pension schemes, free parking at LPT bases and a minimum of 27 days' holiday for full-time staff. Additionally, roles that include working anti-social hours attract enhanced rates of pay for these shifts on top of basic pay.

The careers fair will take place between 10am and 6pm on Tuesday 24 April 2018, at the Final Whistle Suite, Leicester Tigers Stadium, Aylestone Road, Leicester, LE2 7TR.
