Policy On A Page

SUMMARY & AIM

The purpose of this policy is provide guidance on the circumstances in which acting up arrangements may be appropriate and to provide a process to follow to ensure a fair, and consistent approach is taken to ensure the acting up is applied fairly and equitably across LPT.

KEY REQUIREMENTS

The policy applies to all staff substantively employed by the Trust. It does not apply to bank or agency workers or the staff of contractors.

Acting Up arrangements are temporary promotional appointments to cover for the absence of a substantive post-holder and are different in nature to Secondments or Fixed Term positions.

This procedure explains the circumstances under which acting up can be used to cover for the absence of a substantive post holder. It also sets out the circumstances under which staff may apply for and/or be offered 'Acting Up' arrangements, the payments and other arrangements that should be applied.

This procedure provides an easy to follow guide for managers, acting up staff and those affected by acting up arrangements.

This procedure attempts to balance the spirit of equal opportunity and reasonableness with practicality, for both individuals and the service.

TARGET AUDIENCE:

This policy applies to all staff directly employed by the Trust. It does not apply to bank or agency workers or the staff of contractors.

TRAINING

There are no training requirements for this policy.

1.0 Quick look summary

Acting up may be appropriate in the following circumstances:

- To fill a vacancy on a temporary/short term basis whilst waiting for permanent recruitment to take place
- To cover for the substantive post-holder during extended periods of absence, for example during long-term sick leave, maternity leave, career breaks or extended training.

Acting up opportunities should be available to all members of the department who have the appropriate level of competence required for the role when an opportunity arises.

Acting up arrangements must have a clearly defined time limit which takes into account the reason for the acting up requirement.

An acting up period should be greater than four weeks and no longer than six months.

Acting up arrangements should not be used to cover absence due to annual leave or short-term sickness when a deputy or more junior member of staff will cover the responsibilities of a senior role, sometimes at short notice.

When acting up arrangements are to cover maternity leave the acting up period can be for up to 12 months.

Exceptions/extensions to the six month time limit of Acting Up arrangements should only occur when:

- The substantive post-holder is on maternity leave
- The planned return of the substantive post holder has been unavoidably delayed.
- Recruitment to the post is unsuccessful and / or additional time is needed to finalise the recruitment process.
- Organisational change determines that it would not be appropriate to recruit permanently to the position until a Management of Change of process is complete.

Selection Process - If there is one deputy within a department who has the appropriate level of competence and/or qualifications and they are willing to act up they will automatically be appointed into the acting up position.

If there are a number of employees with the appropriate level of competency and/or qualifications within the structure or if the acting up opportunity is to be offered more widely (i.e. to deputies/staff from other teams/wards) then a competitive section process must take place which should follow the principles set out in LPT's Recruitment and Selection Policy.

Payment - Staff who are temporarily moved to a post in a higher pay band will be paid at the minimum of the new pay band.

At the end of a period of Acting Up, the employee acting up will return to their original post on the original salary and terms and conditions.

If LPT or the employee wishes to end the Acting up period early, then the employee acting up will be entitled to 4 weeks' notice, (Unless there are exceptional circumstances that require a shorter notice period).

1.4 Equality Statement

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust (LPT) aims to design and implement policy documents that meet the diverse needs of our service, population and workforce, ensuring that none are placed at a disadvantage over others. It takes into account the provisions of the Equality Act 2010 and promotes equal opportunities for all. This document has been assessed to ensure that no one receives less favourable treatment on the protected characteristics of their age, disability, sex (gender), gender reassignment, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, pregnancy and maternity.

If you would like a copy of this document in any other format, please contact lpt.corporateaffairs@nhs.net

1.5 Due Regard

LPT will ensure that due regard for equality is taken and as such will undertake an analysis of equality (assessment of impact) on existing and new policies in line with the Equality Act 2010. This process will help to ensure that:

- Strategies, policies and procedures and services are free from discrimination.
- LPT complies with current equality legislation.
- Due regard is given to equality in decision making and subsequent processes.

- Opportunities for promoting equality are identified.

Please refer to due regard assessment (Appendix 3) of this policy.

1.6 Definitions that apply to this policy.

Acting Up	Where a member of staff temporarily covers a more senior post of another member of staff who is absent or to temporarily cover where the post is vacant.  Or The temporary promotion of a member of staff to a more senior position, usually to cover an absence by the permanent postholder.
Employee	An employee is an individual who has entered into or works under a contract of employment with the Trust.
Additional Responsibility	Additional responsibility is where an employee takes on additional work which is deemed to be at a higher level or where an employee covers part of the responsibilities of a higher banded post, without undertaking the full responsibilities of the role. For the purposes of this policy, additional responsibility should not normally last less than one month or more than six months except in instances of maternity leave, or long-term sick leave, where a longer period may be known at the outset.
Due Regard	Having due regard for advancing equality involves: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people due to their protected characteristics.</li> <li>• Taking steps to meet the needs of people from protected groups where these are different from the needs of other people.</li> </ul> Encouraging people from protected groups to participate in public life or in other activities where their participation is disproportionately low.

2.0 Purpose of the Policy

The purpose of this policy and procedure is to provide guidance on the circumstances in which acting up arrangements may be appropriate and the process to follow to ensure the acting up is applied fairly and equitably across LPT.

2.0. Summary and Key Points

- 21 Acting Up arrangements are temporary promotional appointments to cover for the absence of a substantive post-holder and are different in nature to Secondments or Fixed Term positions.
- 22 This procedure explains the circumstances under which acting up can be used to cover for the absence of a substantive post holder. It also sets out the circumstances under which staff may apply for and/or be offered 'Acting Up' arrangements, the payments and other arrangements that should be applied.
- 23 This procedure provides an easy to follow guide for managers, acting up staff and those affected by acting up arrangements.

- 24 This procedure attempts to balance the spirit of equal opportunity and reasonableness with practicality, for both individuals and the service.
- 25 This procedure applies to all staff across the organisation.

3.0. Introduction

- 3.1 LPT recognises that the need may arise for individuals to temporarily cover a more senior post within their own department on a temporary basis, where circumstances do not require a permanent appointment to the post. This procedure sets out the circumstances under which employees may apply of and/or be offered acting up arrangements and the payment and other arrangements that should be applied.
- 3.2 All staff should act in accordance to our Trust behaviours and be able to evidence adherence in situations that involve acting up arrangements. A fundamental approach to developing our behaviours is our ability to both give and receive feedback in a positive and insightful way. The feedback method is based on defining; Context, Understanding, Behaviour and Effect (CUBE).

4.0 Guidelines under the policy

- 4.1. Acting up may be appropriate in the following circumstances:
  - To fill a vacancy on a temporary/short term basis whilst waiting for permanent recruitment to take place
  - To cover for the substantive post-holder during extended periods of absence, for example during long-term sick leave, maternity leave, career breaks or extended training.
- 4.2. Acting up opportunities should be available to all members of the department who have the appropriate level of competence required for the role when an opportunity arises.
- 4.3. Acting up arrangements must have a clearly defined time limit which takes into account the reason for the acting up requirement. Employee Services will not accept a Change of Circumstance form without an end date.
- 4.4. If following a formal review of current arrangements (see section 7.3) there is a requirement to extend the acting up period beyond the original end date the manager should consider if acting up is still appropriate and discuss this with a Human Resources Advisor/Business Partner.
- 4.5. Managers should not put pressure on employees to apply for or accept an acting up position and employees who do not wish to act up should not suffer any detriment. Nor should a refusal at any point prohibit the individual from being asked to act up in the future.
- 4.6. Holding an acting up position does not give the individual an automatic right to be appointed to the post if it becomes a permanent vacancy.

5.0. Flowchart

Applying Acting up Arrangements

6.0 Application of Acting Up Arrangements

- 6.1 Acting up arrangements must be agreed by a manager with the appropriate level of authority and are only appropriate to cover the absence of the substantive post holder of an established position within the existing structure.
- 6.2 An acting up period should be greater than four weeks and no longer than six months. Acting up arrangements should not be used to cover absence due to annual leave or short-term sickness when a deputy or more junior member of staff will cover the responsibilities of a senior role, sometimes at short notice.
- 6.3 The exception to 6.2 is when acting up arrangements are to cover maternity leave. In these circumstances the acting up period can be for up to 12 months, however, managers should consider that an individual on maternity leave can give notice of their intention to return to work early which may necessitate ending the acting up early (see section 9).
- 6.4 Exceptions/extensions to the six month time limit of Acting Up arrangements should only occur when:
- The substantive post-holder is on maternity leave (see 6.3)
  - The planned return of the substantive post holder has been unavoidably delayed.
  - Recruitment to the post is unsuccessful and / or additional time is needed to finalise the recruitment process.
  - Organisational change determines that it would not be appropriate to recruit permanently to the position until a Management of Change of process is complete.

Where a post requires cover for longer than six months, alternative methods of cover should be applied, such as a Secondment or Fixed Term position. Please refer to LPT's Recruitment and Selection Policy and Procedure or Fixed Term Contract guidelines for further details on the principles of these arrangements.

- 6.5 In circumstances where an individual has concerns about additional duties being allocated without an Acting up arrangement in place, they should discuss whether Acting Up should apply with their manager.

7.0 Selection Process

7.1 Identifying employees able to act up

- If there is one deputy within a department who has the appropriate level of competence and/or qualifications and they are willing to act up they will automatically be appointed into the acting up position.
- If there are a number of employees with the appropriate level of competency and/or qualifications within the structure or if the acting up opportunity is to be offered more widely (i.e. to deputies/staff from other teams/wards) then a competitive selection process must take place.
- The recruiting manager should communicate details of the acting up opportunity to identified eligible employees and co-ordinate the subsequent applications and selection process, ensuring that decisions are documented and justified. The selection process should follow the principles set out in LPT's Recruitment and Selection Policy.

- 7.2 In all cases, where Acting Up arrangements or extensions are agreed, it is the manager's responsibility to complete the relevant paperwork (H2: Change of Circumstances) and submit to Employee Services (lpt.hrinputting@nhs.net) to ensure that the employee's employment records are updated. Managers should note that, for some positions, it may be necessary for individuals to undertake a new Disclosure Barring Service (DBS) Check prior to commencing in the Acting Up arrangement. For further information refer to the Disclosure Barring Service Check (Formally Criminal Records Bureau) Policy.
- 7.3 In all situations there should be a formal review of acting arrangements every three months and any decision to extend or end the arrangement should be discussed with the employee who has taken on the acting up arrangement and confirmed in writing. It is the responsibility of the manager to ensure that they are monitoring the period of time for the acting up arrangement and to ensure that there is a review of the arrangements at least four weeks prior to the end of the agreed acting up period.
- 7.4 During the acting up period, if it is determined that cover for the position is required for longer than six months and there are no exceptional circumstances (see section 6.4), then alternative methods of covering the absence should be considered (i.e. Secondment or Fixed Term contract). Usual recruitment procedures must then be followed.
- 7.5 Where it is considered that a fair selection process has not been followed in line with the requirements of this policy, then an employee may raise their concerns for review via the Trust's Dispute Resolution in the Workplace Policy.

8.0 Payment

- 8.1 Staff who are temporarily moved to a post in a higher pay band will be paid at the minimum of the new pay band. Staff who are temporarily moved to a post in a higher band will have a pay step date of the anniversary of their appointment into the higher band. Refer to Pay Policy.
- 8.2 When an individual returns to their substantive post following acting up, they will return to the previous band, subject to having met all of the pay progression standards, at the pay step point they would have been on if they had not acted up (i.e. pay steps are deemed to have occurred). Their pay step date will revert to their previous pay step date.
- 8.3 If the individual is subsequently promoted to the higher banded role they were acting up into and their pay step point date was changed under paragraph 8.1 above, this will be retained for their substantive promotion.

9.0 Performance and conduct during acting up arrangements

- 9.1 Any acting up arrangements are subject to the satisfactory performance of the employee.
- 9.2 The line manager of the employee acting up is responsible for ensuring necessary training, support and supervision is provided in line with the Trust's Supervision Policy. An assessment of any additional training or up-skilling required for the employee who is acting up to successfully undertake the role, should be identified by the manager prior to, or at the start of, the acting up arrangement, and measures put in place to address any development areas that are identified.

- 9.3 Where there are concerns about the individual's performance in the acting up position, the line manager should discuss these concerns with the employee as soon as possible/in their supervision and seek advice from the HR Advisor/Business Partner for the area where necessary. Any decisions to end the acting up arrangements, based on unsatisfactory performance, should be discussed with the employee and put in writing.

10.0 Arrangements if acting up post becomes a permanent vacancy

- 10.1 If the acting up post becomes a permanent vacancy it must be advertised and recruited to in line with the Trust's Recruitment and Selection Policy and Procedure.

11.0 Ending the Acting Up Arrangement

- 11.1 At the end of a period of Acting Up, the employee acting up will return to their original post on the original salary (as per Section 8.3) and terms and conditions. Pay protection will not apply under any circumstances.
- 11.2 If the substantive post of the employee acting up is subject to change, the individual should be consulted in line with the Trust's Management of Organisational Change Policy and Procedure. Otherwise, the substantive post must remain available for the employee to return to at the end of the acting up period.
- 11.3 If LPT wishes to end the Acting up period early then the employee acting up will be entitled to 4 weeks' notice unless there are exceptional circumstances that require a shorter notice period (e.g. urgent service needs, unexpected early return of post-holder, serious performance issues). Any decision to end an Acting up period without four weeks' notice must be discussed with the individual and in all circumstances the notice period and the rationale for the decision will be confirmed in writing.
- 11.4 If the individual wishes to end the acting up arrangement early, they are required to give four weeks' notice.

12.0 Duties within the Organisation

- 12.1 The Trust Board has a legal responsibility for Trust policies and for ensuring that they are carried out effectively.
- 12.2 Trust Board Sub-committees have the responsibility for ratifying policies and protocols.
- 12.3 Directors and Heads of Service are responsible for adhering to this policy and undertaking all relevant managerial responsibilities.
- 12.4 Managers and Team leaders are responsible for adhering to this policy and undertaking all relevant managerial responsibilities.
- 12.5 It is the responsibility of the Human Resources Department to provide advice and support to Line Managers and employees in implementing this policy and procedure.

12.6 Responsibility of Staff to adhere to this policy.

17.0 Fraud, Bribery and Corruption consideration

The Trust has a zero-tolerance approach to fraud, bribery and corruption in all areas of our work and it is important that this is reflected through all policies and procedures to mitigate these risks.

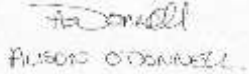

Fraud relates to a dishonest representation, failure to disclose information or abuse of position in order to make a gain or cause a loss. Bribery involves the giving or receiving of gifts or money in return for improper performance. Corruption relates to dishonest or fraudulent conduct by those in power.

Any procedure incurring costs or fees or involving the procurement or provision of goods or service, may be susceptible to fraud, bribery, or corruption so provision should be made within the policy to safeguard against these.

If there is a potential that the policy being written, amended or updated controls a procedure for which there is a potential of fraud, bribery, or corruption to occur you should contact the Trusts Local Counter Fraud Specialist (LCFS) for assistance.
