1.4 Equality Statement

Leicestershire Partnership NHS Trust (LPT) aims to design and implement policy documents that meet the diverse needs of our service, population and workforce, ensuring that none are placed at a disadvantage over others. It takes into account the provisions of the Equality Act 2010 and promotes equal opportunities for all. This document has been assessed to ensure that no one receives less favourable treatment on the protected characteristics of their age, disability, sex (gender), gender reassignment, sexual orientation, marriage and civil partnership, race, religion or belief, pregnancy and maternity.

If you would like a copy of this document in any other format, please contact lpt.corporateaffairs@nhs.net or lpt.policy@nhs.net

1.5 Due Regard

LPT will ensure that due regard for equality is taken and as such will undertake an analysis of equality (assessment of impact) on existing and new policies in line with the Equality Act 2010. This process will help to ensure that:

- Strategies, policies and procedures and services are free from discrimination.
- LPT complies with current equality legislation.
- Due regard is given to equality in decision making and subsequent processes.

1.6 Definitions that apply to this policy.

Policy	A policy document is a statement of corporate intent that is regarded as a legally binding; therefore, its purpose, definitions and the responsibilities outlined within its content, must be upheld in order that it may be used to support an individual or the Trust during legal action. It contains details which relevant Trust employees are expected to adhere to, as part of their terms of employment. It is a high-level statement of approach detailing the way that national legislation or directives will be applied across the Trust with mandatory and organisation-wide application. It is developed in consultation and with engagement from key teams/officers (including subject matter experts). It is mandatory for all staff, (permanent or temporary) volunteers and others as appropriate (e.g., contractors) and is considered binding
Procedure	A procedure is a standardised method of performing clinical /non-clinical tasks by providing a series of actions that must be completed in a certain order or manner to accomplish a safe, effective outcome. Such a document would place greater emphasis upon providing step-by-step instructions, to ensure all concerned undertake the task in an agreed and consistent way. The procedure is a formal document and must be complied with as it may be used to support an individual or the Trust during legal action. A procedural document must follow a particular policy. It is a description of operational tasks to be undertaken to implement, or support, a policy. Procedural documents apply across the Trust to all relevant sites and services.
Protocol	These are a written code of practice that may include recommendations/detail competencies or delegation of authority. Less rigid than a procedure, they are locally adapted to offer a broad statement of good practice which includes national guidelines, defining the management of patients or categories of patients, agreed by health care professionals. Clinical guidance documents allow individuals to use their professional judgement and decision-making skills. It may be organisation-wide or division-specific. Its format can be diagrammatic. Clinical guidelines are flexible and act as a support and guide, they are not prescriptive.
Standing Operating Procedure (SOP)	A standard operating procedure (SOP) is a set of step-by-step instructions compiled by a service to help workers carry out the complex routine of the service SOPs aim to achieve efficiency, and quality output and uniformity of performance, while reducing miscommunication. regulations.

2.0 Why we need this policy

The purpose of this policy:

Describe the process for developing, approving and distributing policies, guidelines, procedures and protocols.

Summarise the areas of responsibility that each Directorate and governance forum has in the policy, guidelines, SOPS, procedures and protocols development, approval extension and distribution process.

Explain the arrangements for distributing policies, guidelines, SOPS, procedures and protocols.

Summarise the arrangements for ensuring that policies, guidelines, procedures and protocols and SOP’s are regularly reviewed to reflect changing practice.

Summary and scope of the policy:

Policies, guidelines, procedures and protocols and SOP’s should be reviewed between one and three years (to be determined by the relevant Director).

Policies should be approved by the relevant level 2 or 3 delivery group. This approval is to be documented on the 3A highlight report for the relevant assurance committee for ratification.

Policies that are assigned to Level 1 assurance committees are approved and ratified within their meeting.

Where it is not possible to wait until the next appropriate committee meeting to ratify a policy this can be agreed virtually via email and the Corporate Governance Team are to be included in the correspondence. This must also be documented at the next Committee or Group.

When it is necessary to urgently circulate a policy change until a permanent version is developed and properly ratified, this will be added to the weekly staff communication briefing.

Where a policy has been reviewed and changes made are not material, or there are no changes there is no need for the policy to be formally ratified – it can be adopted without the requirement to go the relevant group meeting, but it should be documented at the appropriate Committee or Group.

Guidelines, procedures and protocols are approved by the relevant level 2 or 3 or delivery groups and do not need level 1 assurance committee ratification.

The Corporate Governance Team is responsible for uploading all policies and procedures onto Ulysses where they are kept centrally and where relevant, once approved the policy, SOP or guideline will be uploaded onto the Trust's website or Staffnet.

Authors / Lead Directors should endeavour to reduce the quantity of policies, guidelines, procedures and protocols within their Directorates whenever possible.

Authors/ Lead Directors should consider retiring, merging or reducing the length of policies to ensure that users are able to access relevant material quickly.

Any request for extension to a policy, procedure, guideline or protocol beyond its review date should be reviewed by the relevant delivery group, and a recommendation and rationale sent to the Corporate Governance Team (lpt.corporateaffairs@nhs.net or lpt.policy@nhs.net). Policies may only be extended once for up to 12 months without a review if they are considered to be safe to use.

3.0 Policy Requirements

Details of the principles and core standards to be used in the development and management of policies.

This policy applies to the development of policies, guidelines, SOP's, procedures and protocols.

The Trust's policies must be designed to support staff to perform their duties and to meet legal requirements, and must be consistent with the Trust's other processes, guidelines, procedures and protocols.

Each policy, guideline, procedure and protocol should be reviewed periodically and /or when scheduled for formal review (between 1 and 3 years). An automated reminder will remind the author and owner that their policy, guideline, procedure or protocol is scheduled for review. When reviewing, the author will need to consult relevant key stakeholders for their input and comments prior to approval by the relevant delivery group. All policies, guidelines, procedures and protocols need to be uploaded to Ulysses by the Corporate Team after ratification by the relevant Committee or Group.

Only policies need to be ratified by the relevant level 1/2/3 Committee. Guidelines, procedures and protocols do not need to be ratified by a Board Committee.

In line with the Freedom of Information Act (2000), where appropriate, approved procedural documents will be published on the Trust website. This version of any document published on the Trust website is the definitive version.

All procedural documents apply across the Trust. Localised policies should only be drafted in exceptional circumstances where prior agreement has been obtained from the Corporate Team.

Consultation

All Policies shall initially be written/reviewed by subject matter experts and the core policy reviewer group which includes;

- Corporate Assurance Officer with a responsibility for policies
- Head of Quality Governance and Quality Improvement
- Deputy Head of Nursing
- Equality and Diversity Lead
- Patient Safety Lead
- Patient Experience and Engagement Lead
- HR representative
- Health and Safety Representative
- Clinical Safety Officer
- Infection Control Representative
- Director of Governance and Risk
- Medical Director
- Suicide and Self Harm Lead
- Representatives from HIS
- Learning and Development

All key stakeholders should be consulted, and their engagement recorded in the Policy. All Policies (and Policy changes) must consider the impact on service users and carers.

Where a policy is likely to have a direct link to or impact on service users and carers, draft documents will be circulated to service user and carer groups for comment. Where any decision is taken that an authorised document is not to be subject to consultation by service users and carers, the reasons for this must be clearly stated on the policy approval form.

Consultation on policies that will impact on protected groups and other protected characteristics/equality groups should be consulted upon with those concerned. A coordinated approach can enable the results of previous engagement in policy development, avoiding duplication and helping to build confidence among stakeholders, as they can see that their feedback is being acted on. The Commission's Guide on Engagement and the Equality Duty provides further advice on this.

Where possible policy authors should consider Co-production when writing the policy. Co-production is a way of working that involves people who use health and care services, carers and communities in equal partnership; and which engages groups of people at the earliest stages of service design, development and evaluation.

4.0 Duties within the Organisation

If any staff have any comments or suggestions on this policy or any policy please email lpt.policy@nhs.net.

5.0 Core Standards

Core standards to produce approved procedural documents were originally taken from the NHS Litigation Authority (now NHS Resolution) and have been adopted by the Trust as model standards.

- The document should be accessibility compliant.
- Agreed Trust wide style and format.
- Clear introduction and definition of terms used for each document.
- Clear consultation process
- Clear adoption process
- Reviewing arrangements for each document
- Identified system for control of documents and archiving.
- Standardised references to associated documents.
- Clearly identified process for monitoring effectiveness
- If necessary, a privacy assessment to be completed.

It is a requirement that all new and existing procedural documents being reviewed are assessed with due regard to relevant employment law and equality legislation; specifically, the public sector equality duty (PSED) to ensure that decisions are fair, transparent, accountable, evidence-based and consider the needs and rights of all stakeholders.

All Trust Policies undergo an Data Privacy Impact Assessment to demonstrate that they are exercising due regard. Therefore, stakeholders will have an entitlement to question LPT about its equality work and request evidence on how they are exercising 'due regard' obligations.

It is a requirement that all relevant, new and existing procedural documents are assessed to ensure compliance with The Modern Slavery Act.

It is a requirement that all relevant, new and existing procedural documents are assessed with regard to relevant standards and safeguards as set out in the Mental Health Act Code of Practice.

Stakeholders are key to the review and development of authorised documents. The policy author has the responsibility to ensure consultation takes place with the appropriate stakeholders.

The NHS Constitution sets out the principles and values that guide how the NHS should act and make decisions. It brings together several rights, pledges and responsibilities for staff and patients alike. Policy authors must take account of the NHS Constitution and identify which of the rights and pledges are applicable to the policy being developed.

It is a requirement that training needs are identified for policies and must be included in the policy if training is identified. The training template must be completed after training needs have been identified, the policy template includes the table for completion. No training needs have been identified for this policy.

Policy authors must complete the NHS Constitution checklist and attach to the policy.

Privacy impact assessments (PIAs) are a tool which can help organisations identify the most effective way to comply with their data protection obligations and meet individual's expectations of privacy. The first step in the PIA process is identifying the need for an assessment.

It is a requirement that all procedural documents are presented in a concise and clear style using plain English. The Trust recognises that it must ensure that documents will need to be available in other formats if they are requested, to meet accessibility requirements.

LPT recognises that it has a role to play in ensuring that the population it serves including non-English speakers and people with visual or hearing loss can have full access to all our services. Any document can be translated into other mediums or languages. Translations can be arranged by request to the Trust's translating service. For further advice on this issue please contact the Trust's Equality team

Documents should be written in Arial font, minimum size 12, with single line spacing. Abbreviations should only be used after the term has been displayed in full.

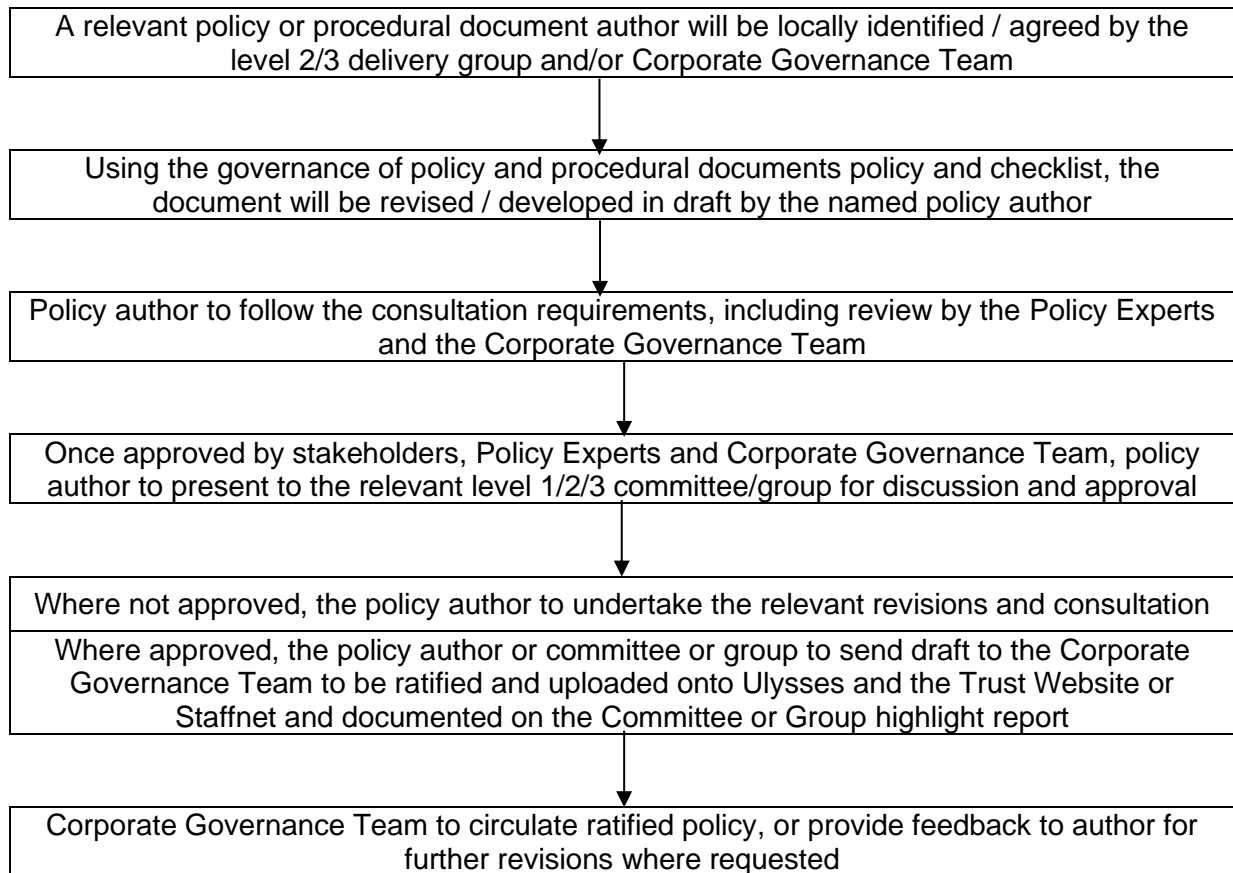

Policy authors must liaise with Clinical Safety Officers and/or the LPT IM&T Delivery Group if documentation is required within the electronic patient record.

Documents must accurately attribute the sources to which they refer and validates the statements and conclusions you make in your work by providing supporting evidence. They should be also updated to reflect any new guidance.

Policies, Guidelines or SOPs should not include electronic links or embedded documents to other policies/guidelines.

6.0 Pathway for new or revised policies, procedures, protocols or guidelines

Ulysses/Corporate Governance Team will send an automated reminder to the named policy author and Committee or Group when an existing policy needs reviewing	Where an existing procedural document needs reviewing, this should be discussed and agreed at the relevant level 2 group	Where the need for a new policy or procedural document is identified (or the closure / merging of an existing policy), this should be discussed and agreed at the relevant level 2 group

7.0 Monitoring Compliance and Effectiveness

All policies must include details of how compliance will be monitored. For example: this could be done through audits, surveys, performance management, and incident and complaints analysis. However, it is not sufficient to state that it will be subject to audit without a description of how that audit will be carried out. Monitoring of compliance is intended to demonstrate that the processes described in each individual policy are being monitored, and not simply the anticipated outcomes.

Please include at least 1-5 sample to demonstrate assurance and include details of how and when the Committee/Group that will monitor in their workplan. Compliance is more usually achieved through pro-active performance or process management.

Monitoring of compliance in any policy must include a clear description of how the responsible Committee/Group will address gaps in compliance identified through the monitoring process. The Method of monitoring is to be tested 6 months before to ensure they are working by responsible person/group and included on their workplan.

	Guidelines and procedures are not duplicated within policies but are cross referenced where applicable			Where a concept or principle is duplicated in another policy that policy will be withdrawn from the list and edited accordingly

8.0 Monitoring of compliance with the processes described in this policy

The Corporate Governance Team will undertake an annual audit policies to review compliance with this policy.

This will include whether:

- Committee minutes reflect the policy approval, implementation and publication processes set out in this document
- The policies are registered and have a unique identification number
- There have been audits carried out of compliance

- The policy register is up-to-date with reference to the sample

The full register is reviewed routinely (monthly) to ensure that all entries are current and relevant policies have been reviewed. Gaps in compliance with this policy are initially the subject of action by the Corporate Assurance Coordinator.

The Corporate Assurance Coordinator routinely does the following:

- A prompt sent to all Relevant Committee/Group and Authors, monthly, notifying them of registered review dates for the following quarter, and the need for policies to be reviewed
- Liaison on agenda management to of each of the ratifying Committees/Groups to ensure due process in the content and compliance and appropriate recording.

9.0 Fraud, Bribery and Corruption consideration

The Trust has a zero-tolerance approach to fraud, bribery and corruption in all areas of our work and it is important that this is reflected through all policies and procedures to mitigate these risks.

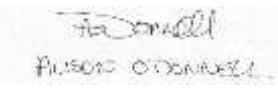

Fraud relates to a dishonest representation, failure to disclose information or abuse of position to make a gain or cause a loss. Bribery involves the giving or receiving of gifts or money in return for improper performance. Corruption relates to dishonest or fraudulent conduct by those in power.

Any procedure incurring costs or fees or involving the procurement or provision of goods or service, may be susceptible to fraud, bribery, or corruption so provision should be made within the policy to safeguard against these.

If there is a potential that the policy being written, amended or updated controls a procedure for which there is a potential of fraud, bribery, or corruption to occur you should contact the Trusts Local Counter Fraud Specialist (LCFS) for assistance.

An explanation for the answers will assist with the determination as to whether a full DPIA is required which will require senior management support, at this stage the Head of Data Privacy must be involved.
